

KING GEORGE SILVER JUBILEE EVENT TO BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE

CEREMONIES AT SHOW TO BE COLORFUL

Weather Will Not Interfere With Celebration

LONDON, May 2. (P)—Rain or shine, the big show of King George's silver jubilee—the procession to St. Paul's cathedral next Monday—will go forward.

An official announcement today that the weather would not be permitted to interfere with the great event stillled discussion of what would happen if May showers should make an unwelcome contribution to the occasion.

The only difference in the plans will be that in the event of unfavorable weather King George, Queen Mary and their retinue will ride in closed instead of open state landaus.

The picturesqueness and opulence of the east will be represented in the procession by four distinguished Indians, the Maharaja of Jammu and Kashmir, the Maharaja of Kikner, the Maharaja of Patte and Nawab Malik Sir Umar Hayat Khan.

The day's events in Great Britain will include the lighting of a chain of 1,750 beacons illuminating the realm from Land's End to John o' Groats.

King George himself at the end of the day of thanksgiving will ignite the first of the chain by pressing a button in Buckingham palace. An electrical impulse thereupon will set ablaze a conical beacon 20 feet high in Hyde Park.

Not a point in the country will be out of sight of an answering blaze, it has been planned. The ring of fire around England, Wales and Scotland will be answered by a corresponding girdle of flame around the six counties of Northern Ireland.

Police and Firemen To Hold Meeting

Members of the Santa Ana police department and the fire department will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. in firehouse No. 1 to discuss the civil service bill recently passed by the state legislature.

Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink, president of the Santa Ana police and firemen's protective association, announced that one of the main topics of discussion at the meeting tomorrow will be the possibility of becoming hosts to the police and firemen's association of Southern California.

Charles H. Sumner Rites Held Today

Funeral services were held this morning at the Smith & Tutill chapel for Charles Hunter Sumner, 81, father of Everett Hunter of 821 North Flower. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the First Presbyterian church officiated.

Minister Will Meet Here Tomorrow

Ministers of the city will hold their monthly meeting tomorrow noon at James' cafe. Representatives of Ruth Home in El Monte will be present and a discussion of unification of church services in the city will be held. A report of CC camp work will be made.

PEACE MOVE IS AWAITED BY WORKERS

DETROIT, May 2. (P)—Twenty thousand workers in the automobile industry, forced into idleness through a series of strikes and shutdowns in General Motors subsidiary plants, waited for the outcome today of a scheduled peace conference between the government and the American Federation of Labor.

Edward F. McGrady, first assistant secretary of labor, and one of the administration's chief "trouble shooters," admitting that the situation was "serious," expected to meet Francis J. Dillon, A. F. of L. organizer today to get the federation's proposals for peace with the General Motors management.

It was the second time in 14 months that the federal government intervened to head off the threat of a strike that might paralyze the giant motorcar industry, a pace setter in the recovery of heavy industry. President Roosevelt intervened in March of 1934 and succeeded in halting a strike threat.

McGrady has been in Detroit since Tuesday night, but says he could make no strategic moves until he could meet the A. F. of L. Dillon was due here today after several days spent conferring with the Federation of Labor leaders in Washington.

Meanwhile strikes and threats of strikes were spreading through the Chevrolet and Fisher body subsidiaries of General Motors, reaching out in some instances into the plants of independent automobile parts makers, and affecting indirectly many workers in companies supplying materials to the motor car industry.

The key to the situation was the strike of workers in the Chevrolet plant at Toledo where transmission units are manufactured for Chevrolet cars.

Over 60 Teachers to Attend Demonstration

More than 60 music teachers will attend a music demonstration to be given Monday at 4 o'clock at the Lowell school as the last of weekly conferences of music teachers in Orange county schools.

Samples of classroom singing, dancing, interpretative and creative music will be included in the program to be given by Mrs. Marjorie Dudley and Mrs. Hazel Hefflein, Lowell music instructors.

HIGH JINKS HAILED

"The Hi Jinx was a grand success with everybody asking for another one soon," was American Legion Commander B. J. Casteix's comment on the stag jubilee held last night in the Veterans' hall.

The affair was the second of its kind to be held locally for several years. Charles Nussbaumer was chairman.

DEATH PENALTY ABOLITION OPPOSED

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (P)—

For the first time in many years the judiciary committee of the assembly was on record today against the bill of 19 assemblymen asking the abolition of the death penalty from California's penal statutes.

In a late meeting of the committee last night with barely a quorum around the table, a motion to kill the measure, authored by a group of EPIC assemblymen and supported by several members of the San Francisco delegation, failed by only two votes.

A second motion to send the bill to the floor without recommendation was defeated, 7 to 6. There was no debate and afterward Assemblyman Pelletier, Los Angeles, whose name heads the list of authors, announced he would make a move on the assembly floor to withdraw the measure from committee.

In previous years the bill has met favorable consideration in the assembly judiciary committee and passed the lower house only to be killed in the senate.

The assembly, holding its first night session, sped 75 bills through the house, among them the Wagy constitutional amendment which would provide the foundation for establishment of the women's prison at Tehachapi as an institution operated solely by women. The vote was 62 to 5 and the measure goes back to the senate for concurrence in amendments.

Another public hearing on the controversial Lyon-Redwine-Martin bill making it a felony for any person to possess or distribute communistic literature for the purpose of destruction of the government was set for Monday after Assemblyman Redwine, Hollywood, had offered amendments to the measure.

NAVY'S SHIPS AWAIT GOAL

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN,

Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD THE U. S. S. PENN.

SYLVANIA, San Francisco Harbor,

May 2. (P)—Forty warships under command of Admiral Harris Laning were under maintenance operations in the harbor here today, ready for instant departure, while another strong, fast-striking force of the United States fleet moved into Puget Sound during the night, under command of Vice Admiral Arthur Japy Hepburn.

These were but two forces of the several groups into which the 153 warships of the United States fleet now engaged in annual maneuvers have been divided.

The whereabouts of the other forces has not been disclosed by Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet.

Official Is Guest

As guest of Admiral Reeves aboard the Pennsylvania is Colonel W. Krueger, of the war plans division of the war department general staff.

Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, will come to the Pacific coast to embark on May 14 aboard the cruiser Memphis to be taken to the center of one of the crucial phases of this largest concentration of naval ships in action in the peacetime history of the navy.

Clanking of Road Grader Doesn't Get on HER Nerves

GREENSBURG, Pa.—The clanking of a road grader is real music to Mrs. William B. Graham. One of them has just turned up the wedding ring she lost 35 years ago.

Although it has been part of a roadbed all that time it was not greatly damaged and the initials of Mrs. Graham and her husband were still legible.

L. A. Youth Booked On Theft Charge

Walter L. Lane, 17, Los Angeles, was booked at the county jail yesterday charged with petty theft. Young Lane was arrested in Bakersfield Tuesday and was returned to Santa Ana by Officers Harry Fink and Bob Elliott of the Santa Ana police department.

According to a report filed by Fink, Lane admitted to officers that he had passed two fictitious checks in Santa Ana. Lane was certified to the juvenile court yesterday by City Judge J. C. Mitchell.

MARKET BETTER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. (P) Golden State Co., Ltd., reported a turn for the better in 1934 earnings, with $70,036 net profit compared with a net before capital losses of $10,847 in 1933.

Sales increased $3,491,565, totaling $18,606,902 compared with $15,115,337 in 1933. Surplus was increased to $292,555 from $222,520.

LOTS OF PAPER

RIO DE JANEIRO (P)—Brazil's paper money in circulation is officially placed at 3,097,218,383, 500 reis, a sum roughly equivalent to $206,481,225. This means a circulation of about $5 per capita.

BRUNO JURORS INFLUENCED, CHARGE

TRENTON, N. J., May 2. (P)—

Bruno Richard Hauptmann's counsel charged today the jury which convicted him of the Lindbergh baby murder was not properly sequestered, resulting in "undue and improper influence" upon it by persons outside the court's jurisdiction.

Counsel appealed to the New Jersey court of errors and appeals for permission to take testimony to support its allegations. A motion for oral argument was denied.

Strike Violence Is Guarded Against

LOS ANGELES, May 2. (P)—

Police today guarded against possible violence in the deadlocked strike of 600 furniture workers.

One man, a machinist, yesterday complained he was beaten and a crowd of strikers in another reported disturbance attempted to halt a truck as it drove away from a furniture warehouse.

Union officials declared 700 additional workers may be called out on the strike. The men are asking increased wages.

and the court announced it would decide the case later today on briefs.

Attorney General Wilentz, filing a brief memorandum for the state, said the defendant was "entitled to a speedy and public trial, which right was accorded him."

SENATE GIVEN BONUS ISSUE

WASHINGTON, May 2. (P)—

The cash bonus issue was placed squarely before the senate today, as debate opened on the Harrison compromise bill, when Senator Clark (Democrat, Missouri), offered the Vinson full payment measure as a substitute.

The stocky Missouri senator, himself a veteran, offered the Vinson bill without comment, but told newspapermen he believed it would get enough votes to take the place of the Harrison substitute.

Under the Vinson bill veterans could immediately cash their bonuses. Harrison's compromise, present-nus certificates for full face value, $1000.

SHOWDOWN SEEN ON FERA MOVE TO FORCE STATES INTO LINE

SOLONS WATCH HOPKINS FOR ACTION

Threat of Relief Administrator Pondered

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Senators preparing to conduct a sweeping investigation into the handling of relief watched today to see if Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, would make good his latest threat to withhold federal funds from states refusing to make requested contributions.

Numerous developments pointed to the possibility of an immediate showdown on FERA's efforts to force state officials into line.

Chief among them was the fact that Hopkins was to work on grants to be made today or tomorrow from the $100,000,000 fund which he asked President Roosevelt to set aside yesterday for May relief needs.

He was aware that the Illinois house of representatives, faced by the threat that federal funds would be cut off at midnight last night unless the state agreed to raise $3,000,000 monthly for relief, had rebuffed a sales tax proposed to meet the ultimatum. In the Illinois statehouse it was rumored that Hopkins stood ready to take over the state's relief administration and assume full responsibility for the case of its 1,165,897 on relief.

Pennsylvania, with 1,866,819 dependent on relief payments, likewise had failed to comply with a federal demand for larger contributions. Several other states were in the same category. Missouri moved only yesterday to get under the wire by passing a bill appropriating $500,000 for relief this month.

Apparently mindful of these situations, the senate yesterday sent its appropriations committee into a general investigation of the distribution of relief funds.

Plumber Convicted Of Murdering Wife

OAKLAND, May 2. (AP)—Condemned to hang for the slaying of Laura Gosden, his third wife, Louis Gosden, 31-year-old Oakland plumber, pinned his hope to escape the gallows today in the planned appeal of his attorney.

The verdict of guilty of first degree murder without recommendation of mercy returned by the jury yesterday afternoon only 1 hour and 40 minutes after receiving the case makes the death sentence mandatory. Defense Attorney Melvin Belli gave verbal notice of appeal.

'Dumb' Movie Star Alleges Swindle

LOS ANGELES, May 2. (AP)—Charging he was swindled out of $700, Nat Pendleton, former Olympic games wrestler and now a movie actor, today had filed a complaint against Max Marx, Hollywood booking agent.

Pendleton, portrayer of "dumb" roles on the screen, declared he examined Marx' roulette wheel and found it "fixed".

About Folks You Know

MAE'S 'HUSBAND' GETS WALL STREET BACKING

MILWAUKEE, May 2. (AP)—Whether it would change the "Wall Street betting" odds, he didn't know, but the register of deeds here today was willing to fill the request of a Broadway actor for a copy of the license the actor said he obtained here in 1911 when he married Mae West.

To Register of Deeds George A. Bowman, who held down a humdrum job until the WallaceWest license turned up here ten days ago, came a letter from Frank Wallace, 325 West 45th St., New York City, reading:

"Kindly advise me of proper steps necessary to obtain a photostatic copy of my marriage license to Mae West on April 11, 1911. Let me know what evidence or information you require."

Bowman said evidence and information was unnecessary, but a 50-cent fee would be required.

"Everybody who knows me on Broadway believes I was Mae West's husband," said Wallace in New York. "Why Wall Street is betting 4 to 1 on me."

The actor said he still has his 1911 copy of the license, but "it's where I can't get it right now, in a secret place." He said he also had in a trunk in another "secret place" the letters from Mae who denied marrying this Wallace, a dead Wallace and several less fully identified husbands.

Wallace said he had kept quiet

Check The Assets of An Exchange Membership

THE many activities of the California Fruit Growers Exchange are conducted for one purpose only: to assure its member-growers of maximum net returns.

Starting with the few services essential to the bare operation of a marketing organization, the Exchange has steadily added others as the need has arisen.

Most Exchange services add to net returns by increasing the price received for its members' crops. In other cases the same result is obtained by lowering the costs of production and marketing.

The Exchange takes no profit on any of these services. Cost of all Exchange services compares favorably with the marketing charge alone of any other agency.

Check, here, this brief list of the assets of Exchange membership. The manager of any Exchange association or district exchange will be glad to discuss them fully with you.

Westminster Boy Scouts to Have Week-End Outing

WESTMINSTER, May 2.—Westminster Boy Scouts will spend the week-end at the Scout camp in Irvine park. About 25 will leave the Scout cabin on their bicycles at 5 a. m. on Saturday. They will return by automobile on Sunday.

WESTMINSTER, May 2.—A program in honor of Mothers' day will be given by members of the Young Matrons' club on Thursday when an all day meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Prindle with a pot-luck luncheon served at noon.

WESTMINSTER, May 2.—The appointment of a postmaster for Westminster will probably be made by July 1. And on that date the local office will once again become a third class office.

Clubhouse Transfer Aired

MIDWAY CITY, May 2.—Members of the Woman's club met with the chamber of commerce at its regular meeting Monday evening to discuss final details concerning the transfer of the community clubhouse from the chamber of commerce to the Woman's club.

Several matters of importance to the district were brought up for discussion at the joint meeting. Mr. Harlow told of plans for a playground project which will be both educational and recreational, directed by a trained supervisor who will be paid out of SERRA funds. Ground and equipment will be furnished by the community.

As planned at present, the recreational activities are only for boys. However, if the girls are interested and desire to be included in the projects for the summer, they should see Mr. Bebermyer or one of the committee, which is composed of Dr. R. L. Johnson, Day Drexler and Francis Dell. Mr. Harlow appointed C. N. Jones, pastor of the Community church, to represent the chamber of commerce as one of a committee which will soon approach the proper authorities in regard to the establishment of a branch of the Orange county library in Midway City.

An interesting event of the evening was the welcome extended to the new members, prominent women of Midway City, who have recently joined the chamber of commerce, Mrs. W. E. Moore, Mrs. Maude Clarke and Miss Amy Leith.

Midway City, May 2—A cabinet meeting of the officers of the Christian Endeavor society will be held at the home of Mary Arnett on Friday evening.

Mrs. W. C. Wilson will leave within a few days on a motor trip to her former home in Massachusetts. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Aleck of Laguna Beach. They will be gone about two months.

GARDENS VISITED BY BEACH GROUP

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 2.—A long caravan filled with dirt-gardeners and flower-lovers toured about the city today visiting 25 gardens in the third annual May day garden pilgrimage, sponsored by the Huntington Beach Garden club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Patrick's garden, located at 643 Frankfort street, captured first prize for its beauty of color and arrangement of brightly blooming cut flowers growing amid graceful trees and shrubs.

The honey garden of Mr. and Mrs. John Dalaney, at 311 16th street, with its pools, outside living room and profusion of bright blooms, won second honors. The beautiful and spacious outdoor living room garden of Mr. and Mrs. George Wardwell, at 711 Main street, unique in its tropical setting and charming with novel wall gardens filled with begonias and ferns, received third award. The Roy Smith and La Verne gardens tied for fourth place.

Purchase of Home Conveniences Indicates Uptrend

Evidence of continued improving conditions is shown in the fact that Orange county housewives are buying modern home conveniences in ever increasing numbers, according to store officials at the J. C. Horton Furniture company. Washing machines especially have been selling rapidly and continuous shipments are necessary to keep stocks complete.

Manufacturers are doing much to help this improvement by offering new conveniences and better values. As an illustration, a stock model of a Faultless washer models of which are on display at the Horton store, has been undergoing a severe run test by being kept in continuous operation since November 10, a total to date of some 4644 hours.

JURY DISMISSED LOS ANGELES, May 1.—The jury in the second conspiracy trial of Justice Gavin W. Craig, Mrs. Helen Werner, former political leader, and Joseph Weinblatt, attorney, was dismissed in federal court today while Judge Charles G. Briggs heard arguments on a defense motion to bar all evidence hinting at attempted bribery of public officials.

ROAD WORK AT BUENA PARK SPEEDED

BUENA PARK, May 2.—The steam shovel working on the concrete road sections intersecting Manchester highway has been noisily interesting to those who watch the development of this work.

The past few days heavy concrete slabs from the old road were nosed about, scooped from the old road and flipped up into the big trucks with uncanniness. Shortly, when the stretch of the Manchester highway is completed and the distance will have been shortened, the traveling time to Santa Ana will be around 15 minutes. Several new business establishments are already dotting the favored locations.

BUENA PARK, May 2.—On Friday, May 3, the Woman's club will hold a bazaar, noonday lunch, and a jitty supper in the evening at the clubhouse on Grand avenue. The reputation the Woman's club has gained for serving meals is so well known here that there is little doubt about the large attendance that will be present, and it is important to be reminded that there will be no benefit gained by coming tardily.

BUENA PARK, May 2.—Dr. Clement E. Counter, of Loma Linda, was in Buena Park Monday, where he was called to assist his brother, Dr. C. Milton Counter.

BUENA PARK, May 2.—Mrs. Beard, postmistress of Yorba Linda, was a Buena Park visitor Monday.

BUENA PARK, May 2.—Several members of the Masonic lodge of Buena Park attended the district officers' convention held at Yorba Linda Sunday, an all day affair. A chicken dinner served at noon was an attractive part of the program.

BUENA PARK, May 2.—J. E. Anderson and family, who resided in Fullerton, have come to Buena Park to reside, occupying a cottage on Ninth street. Mr. Anderson is employed by the Union Oil company. Miss Corinne, daughter, attends the Fullerton Union high school, and John Jr., Paula Mae, Lola Fern, and Mary attend the schools in Buena Park.

Officers Chosen by Garden Grove High P.T.A.

GARDEN GROVE, May 2.—Election of officers and the passing of two important resolutions was effected when the high school P.T.A. met Monday evening in the school auditorium. Officers elected were Mrs. J. G. Allen, president; Mrs. Victor Echols, vice president; Mrs. Eleanor Casady, secretary; Mrs. Hilda Reafsynder, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. O. Arley, treasurer; Victor McClain, parliamentarian; Mrs. Irvine German, historian. They will be installed at the May meeting.

The resolution included one of endorsement of the action of the chamber of commerce in seeking SERRA funds for improvement of the Garden Grove park site. The other one of protest against the proposed horse racing track at Buena Park.

Medical Society To Be Host at June Conclave

The Orange County Medical association will be host to nearly 200 doctors from Riverside and San Bernardino counties, as well as local physicians, next June, at a meeting of the Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. A survey of hospitals in foreign lands by Mrs. Mina Tidball and a talk on "The Hem of His Garment" by Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, supplemented the address.

Reports of the Women's Presbyterian held last week in Los Angeles were given by Mrs. Will McBurney and Miss Jane White. Mrs. Samuel McCaw conducted the devotional service. Mrs. A. E. Kelly, president, officiated.

At the noon luncheon, attended by more than 50 persons, members whose birthdays occurred in April were feted at the birthday table. Two decorated cakes were presented by Mrs. Pearl McBurney for the honorees, including Mesdames Christine Cox, Ruth Kelly, Oney Lukens, Martha Bolland, Elizabeth Hoy, Martha McBurney, Lydia Smart, Bertha Thompson, Geraldine Beall and Helen Thompson. The luncheon committee numbered Mrs. S. H. Finley, Mrs. W. B. Gibson and Mrs. Clarence Safely.

Previous to the luncheon the Ladies aid met for sewing and quilting during which Mrs. J. T. Raft read the Bible study. June 5 has been set for the next all-day session at the home of Mrs. Herbert Walker.

JAIL APPEALED AFTER 20 YEARS

ONTARIO, May 2.—Twenty years ago John Cozad stood on a street corner here, homeless, hungry and broke. The best place to go, he thought, was jail. So he threw an old discarded battery through a plate glass window.

Standing Committees Named For Tustin High P.T.A.

Standing committees who will act for the Tustin Union high school P.T.A. for the ensuing year have been appointed by Mrs. W. W. Tantlinger, president, and are as follows:

STUDENTS WILL STRAND TO OPEN BE HONORED ON SUNDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 2.—Graduates of the elementary school will be guests of honor of the Parent-Teacher association of the elementary school organization which will be held in the Woman's clubhouse at 2 p. m., May 10.

R. M. Elliott, vice principal of the high school, will talk to the students on "Vocational Guidance." Miss Frances Van Horn, director of music of the elementary school, in charge of the program, is also arranging musical numbers for the afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Jane Newland, organizer and first president of the first Parent-Teacher association in Huntington Beach, will install the newly-elected officers of the association. The officers are Mrs. W. S. Vrooman, president; Mrs. A. L. Hendrickson, vice president; Mrs. Ernest Koppl, secretary; Mrs. Dahlia Swift, treasurer; Mrs. F. S. P. Kieffer, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Kissinger, historian.

Harbor Report Given At Newport Meet

NEWPORT BEACH, May 2.—A report on the dredging activity for the past month was made at this week's meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club by Captain Cruise, U. S. army engineer in charge of operations. City Engineer R. L. Patterson made an announcement of the sale of the Southern Pacific right-of-way to the state and to the city of Newport Beach. The speaker for the day was Mr. Herman Zabab, fingerprint expert of the sheriff's office in Santa Ana.

According to the report of Captain Cruise, the harbor improvements are being completed sooner than estimated. To date, 1,100,000 yards of sand have been removed from the bay, which is approximately 45 per cent of the amount to be taken out.

Medical Work Abroad Discussed At Meeting

Appearing in nurse's costume, Mrs. W. P. Read spoke on "Medical Work in Foreign Lands" at a meeting of the Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. A survey of hospitals in foreign lands by Mrs. Mina Tidball and a talk on "The Hem of His Garment" by Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, supplemented the address.

Reports of the Women's Presbyterian held last week in Los Angeles were given by Mrs. Will McBurney and Miss Jane White. Mrs. Samuel McCaw conducted the devotional service. Mrs. A. E. Kelly, president, officiated.

TOWNSEND CLUB MEETS LAGUNA BEACH, May 2—The Townsend club met at Laguna Beach yesterday evening at the Woman's club, and due to the fact that the guest speaker was unable to attend, a general discussion was held. Letters and reports were read before the meeting, the general subject being that the negative congressional vote should cause increased perseverance on the part of Townsend clubs, rather than discouragement.

By FRANK ROGERS

George Lackaye, potent prey of Westminster's national night-ball entrant, was speaking. "You can say for me," he declared, "that three weeks ago I thought I had a pretty fair ball club. Today I don't know what I have."

It was at one of those genial gatherings with the country store atmosphere at Victor Walker's. The group shed a collective tear for Lackaye. Being more or less of a stranger to just sniffed a sympathetic sniff.

But Walker just grinned. "George is only doing his spring crying," declared Vic without taking his attention from a fancy fishing pole he was lacing up for duty.

We tried to console Lackaye by reminding him how terrible major teams invariably looked in the Florida grapefruit league prior to playing for keeps, but he had an inky blue look that wouldn't be unbecomingly more or less of a stranger to just sniffed a sympathetic sniff.

On the bouncer: Coach Clyde Cook, high school baseball mentor, has a live illustration of the fact that interest in baseball is not dying out as many would have you believe.

About 45 anxious youngsters turned out for the Saint ball club this year. Yet at junior college the remainder of the diamond schedule has been dropped.

Bill Hawkins whom the Spalding guide lists as the fifth best prep hurler in these United States, is high school student body president and no wonder. He has a genuine smile and a genuine smile and no wonder.

Joe Rodgers, capable pilot of Huntington Beach's championship nightball team, reminds us of a big-time banker or an international diplomat. And if he bats like he shakes hands, he must be a huge help to his squad.

Trout fishermen, who started their annual campaigns after the elusive ones yesterday are cheered by news that the length limit on the finny ones has been upped from five to six inches.

Clarence Hapes, Garden Grove's man-mountain who was a plunging fullback for Santa Ana junior college's 1930 football club, is the center of attraction in athletics at the University of Mississippi. He was a regular line runner during grid season. In boxing he recently knocked out the Southern Intercollegiate champion for the past three years. Hapes is particularly interested in baseball, and holds down an infield position on the Mississippi varsity. The ex-Dan heavyweight will return here during vacation to play night ball for Westminster Aviators.

John Henry, who captains Santa Ana junior college's swimming team, is city diving champion of Wichita, Kas. John came here last fall, and likes the Don institution so well he plans to enroll again next September.

Nocturnal notes from the ball game: Nomination for the best nightball uniforms so far: Hollywood's red and blue with a Gracie Allenish "little blue hat."

Louise Neva, who got all four hits and both runs that Star Pitcher Jim Coates gave up, didn't even have a glove. He borrowed one. Coates whipped in a fast one down the groove for Neva his first time up, and the former Torrance star slammed it into the center field bleachers.

Envy Wilcox, who has left Santa Ana and the Stars, was around—watching. His offer to hit for Young, made in a playful moment, was rejected. . . but from what we've heard of him, we wish it hadn't.

Bill Cole's grin when he tells you about those Japanese shoes he bought recently. "By golly, they're comfortable," he says. The shoes, incidentally, while apparently restful to the underpinners, look like futuristic interpretations of duck webs.

Champion Basketball Players Honored

Seven members of Wayne Garlock's all-star basketball team, which won the first county-wide invitational court tournament sponsored by the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., have received their championship awards from a committee headed by Ralph C. Smedley.

Francis Conrad and Ernie Acker, forwards; Bill McKinley and Larry Roberts, centers; Charles Denio, Leonard Lockhart and Captain Garlock, guards, were those honored.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press) CLIFF BOLTON, Red Sox—Rapped Yankee pitching for four straight hits, driving in tying runs in ninth.

DIZZY DEAN, Cardinals—Limited Reds to six hits, fanning eight.

EARL AVERILL, Indians—Led attack on White Sox with homer, double and triple.

DICK BARTELL and MEL OTT, Giants—Belted homer and triple each in triumph over Dodgers.

ROY JOHNSON, Red Sox—Knocked in three runs against Athletics with home run and single.

STARTERS IN KENTUCKY DERBY REDUCED TO 16; TODAY WILL BE FAVORITE IN CLASSIC

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—The probable starters in Saturday's $40,000 Kentucky derby diminished to 16 today with C. V. Whitney's colt Today looking like the post-time favorite.

Udds on the Whitney entry seem apt to be 3 to 1 or shorter. He is scheduled, like all the other probable starters except Nellie Flag, to carry 126 pounds. Nellie Flag, a filly, owned by Warren Wright's Calumet farm, is entitled to go with five pounds less. Jockey R. Workman is scheduled to ride today.

Boxthorn Impresses Col. E. R. Bradley is relying on a single colt to bring home the honors in the sixty-first derby. This is Boxthorn, which demonstrated yesterday that he will have to be reckoned with. Boxthorn flashed over the full derby distance in 2:06 4-5.

No other derby candidate has approached this time, so far as has been reported by clockers. Today's last work was a mile and an eighth in 1:55 1-5. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Plat Eye makes his last spin with Jockey Silvio Couci, for the d by route in 2:10. M. R. Charles Hainsworth's Blackbird covered the mile and a quarter in 2:08.

Another leisurely derby route workout yesterday was that of William Woodward's Omaha, which was timed in 2:10. Paced by Gallant Prince the gangling Omaha was making his first trip on the Churchill Downs oval.

MEET REECE GREENE! Excels In Four Major Sports FORMER IOWA MENTOR

TROJANS AFTER CARD RECORD

Seventeen years ago he was Mt. Pleasant high school's all-star forward on a state championship team in Iowa.

Twelve seasons ago he won all-Missouri Valley conference recognition as a court celebrity at Iowa State.

In 1924, his first year out of university, he coached Central high school of Sioux City, Iowa, to a state championship in the floor sport.

Such is the enviable record of Coach Reece "Pinkie" Greene, Santa Ana high school's red-headed basketball and track mentor, who has molded fine teams from mediocre material at the Saint institution the past two seasons.

White's "Roomy" The dapper Greene, who incidentally was a room-mate of the Orange coach, Stewart White, at Iowa State back in 1922 and '23, began his athletic career at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, in 1914. During four years of competition he earned letters in the major sports of football and basketball.

Reece entered Iowa State university at Ames in 1919, and was to become one of few athletes to gain recognition in four major sports—football, basketball, track and baseball. He alternated at quarterback and halfback on the Iowa varsity eleven, played forward in the diamond sport, forward in basketball.

In track, the last sport to interest the versatile Greene, he was "discovered" in an intra-mural meet by Coach Ned Merriam, recently of Chicago university. Merriam made a low hurdler out of "Pinkie," who established a new college record of 25.2 seconds.

Reece's record in that sport was not broken until four seasons ago. Greene finished second in a state meet his first season, and fourth in the Missouri Valley conference in competition with athletes from Nebraska and Kansas.

First Team Champions Leaving university in '23, he secured a coaching post at Central high school in Sioux City, where he remained six years as head basketball coach, assistant in football and track. He made a hit his first season by developing a state basketball champion—one that entered the national inter-scholastic tourney at Chicago but was eliminated in competition with 37 states.

Windor, Colorado, whose prep five won the national title in '24, put out the Sioux City quintet in the third round. Forrest Two-good, now coaching at U. S. C., was one of Greene's star players.

Reece's coaching ability is not limited to athletics. He is an instructor in biology and typewriting as well. Married, he lives at 1228 North Broadway, Santa Ana.

TRANSFER CAMP Members of the C. C. C. camp in Trabuco canyon will be transferred on May 28 to a new camp near Couer de Alene, Idaho, for the summer, it was learned here today. Camp San Juan will occupy the Trabuco location during the summer.

NATIONAL NIGHT BALL HEADS MEET TONIGHT TO SETTLE SCHEDULE, NEW RULES

J. C. TRACKMEN THREATEN TO SET MARKS

Representatives of the National Night Ball league's six teams—Huntington Beach's champions, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Olive, Westminster and Long Beach—will convene at the Elve Bird cafe in Garden Grove tonight for the purpose of drafting the official 1935 schedule and to take definite action on new diamond rules proposed for the coming season.

The meeting will be presided over by Walter B. Wentz, president, and is expected to be attended by Ralph "Bill" Cole of Santa Ana, B. Gelker and Terry Griffith of Olive, Fred Grable and Joe Rodgers of Huntington Beach, W. E. Feistner of Long Beach, Francis Penhall and George Lackaye of Westminster, Vic Rudy and James Heffron of Anaheim.

Study New Rules Whether the 13-inch ball will be used instead of the 13 1/2-inch sphere will be determined, as will the distances between bases and the distance from the pitcher's box to home plate.

A committee from the newly organized Federal league, comprising Huntington Park, Torrance, Hollywood, Montebello, Los Angeles, Alhambra, Bell and Downey, may attend tonight's meeting, President Wentz said. Plans for a special session, to be attended by National, American and Federal league managers, probably will be formulated.

Nightball notes: Bill Howard, U. S. C. quarterback last fall, has joined Al Reboin and Allen Kilder, Trojans, in seeking regular positions with the Olive club. Ray Short, hard-hitting second baseman of Santa Ana high school's 1934 hard ball team, and Bruce Harnois, former fullback at Westminster nightballer, are other Olive prospects. . . "Lefty" Thrasher, ex-Citrus jaycee star, patrols left field for Hollywood of the Federals. Louie Neva, ace pitcher and hitting king of the Film city club, likes the 13-inch ball, but says it tires his arm too quickly. . . Wilson Seacord, 2-gunner of the Santa Ana club, is another "sold" on the smaller sphere. He claims the 13-inch ball curves easily, and allows the pitcher to display more "stuff."

Harold Yonel, jaycee football player, is seeking a regular position with the Irvine club of the County Nightball league. . . Emmett Seacord, Anaheim hurler, lives in Riverside, makes the trip to Orange county three times weekly.

Eastern conference members hold five other records. Bill Brown, Fullerton, holds the high hurdle mark of 14.7 and shares the low hurdle record of 24 ft. with Smart of Compton. Miller of San Bernardino holds the javelin record of 181 ft. 8 in., and Morris Pollock, formerly of Riverside, maintains the association's best time in the century and the broad jump record of 24 ft. 7 1/2 in.

Seven of the existing marks are held by former Compton athletes, who during the past few seasons have excelled in the 440, mile, low hurdles, pole vault, high jump, shot put and discus. Los Angeles has produced the best two-tier and relay team. Long Beach holds one record—the 880 set by Earle of the Vikings in 1931 when he ran 1 min. 58.7 secs.

The Southland records: 100-yard dash—Pollock (Riverside), 1929, 14.5 secs. 220-yard dash—Geyer (Santa Ana), 1929, 21.2. 440-yard dash—Hicks (Compton), 1931, 49 secs. 880-yard run—Earle (Long Beach), 1931, 1 min. 58.7 secs. Mile run—Benavidez (Compton), 1932, 4 min. 28.3 secs. Two-mile run—Lewis (Los Angeles), 1933, 9 min. 51.4 secs. 10-yard high hurdles—Brown (Fullerton), 1934, 24 ft. 7 1/2 in. Shot put—Harper (Compton), 1931, 46 ft. 9 1/4 in. Discus—Parks (San Bernardino), 1933, 181 ft. 8 1/2 in.

The Trojans figure they can crack that record, providing the track is good and the conditions favorable. The U. S. C. team is composed of McCarthy, Cassin, Fitch and Johnson. McCarthy has once done 46.8 on one lap.

Coach "Dink" Templeton of Stanford is looking forward to "that meet with old S. C." chiefly because he would like to prove the Trojans are not "supermen from Mars," but "plain college boys whose appearance will not terrify the Stanford entrants to such an extent they will be frozen into inactivity."

Stanford University, Calif., May 2.—(AP)—Besides rolling up a large score against the University of Southern California Trojans will be gunning for one of Stanford's most prized possessions here Saturday, the mile relay record of 3:12.6 set at Fresno in 1931.

COATES GIVES ONLY FOUR SAFETIES

Neva Lone Federal To Score and Hit; Gets Two Home Runs

Lead majestically by Jim Coates, Santa Ana's shooting Stars last night romped over the Hollywood Bakers, members of the new Federal league at the municipal bowl. With Coates giving up but four hits—all to Louie Neva, incidentally—and fanning 13 would-be batters, Bill Cole's gang hung up a sparkling 7-2 victory.

Coates stalked the mound as invincible as a banker's heart except when Neva, a former National leaguer, faced him. While taking a quartet of hits from the Star speedballer, Neva blasted out two homers as well, scoring all his team's tallies.

None of the visitors, who have been hailed as the class of the new circuit, literally could get to first base with Coates. Those who did not go down via the strikeout method popped out to the infield, making a very inauspicious showing indeed.

George Preble, Rod Ballard and "Doc" Smith set the plate pace for the Stars, each grabbing a pair of safeties in four tries. Ballard poled a long triple for the best Star swat.

Costly Juggling Neva put his team into the lead in the first frame when he whacked one of Coates' fast ones smack into the left field bleachers, but the Stars evened things up a couple of successive singles by Smith and Preble along with some fancy but costly juggling by Centerfielder Paul Neva.

Two more outfield errors by hobbling Bakers in the second, coupled with a wild pitch and a smashing double by "Bomo" Korral netted the Stars two more on the second and from then on they were never threatened. Neva scored his team's last run with a long poke into centerfield in the fourth—his second appearance at bat.

Highlight of the evening came when Umpire Cooper literally "gave" Coles' boys a run. With two down and Pitcher Coates on second where he had put himself up a double, Smith rapped to Casey who threw quickly to first baseman Vieth for what looked like an out.

Cooper may have had his mind made up, but in calling his decision he failed to synchronize his voice and his arm. "Safe!" he shouted, and Vieth, his right hand thumb and hand wide in the universally accepted token for "yer out."

Baseball players can see a darn sight better than they can hear, so the Hollywooders left the field. Smartly, Coates was not to be fooled, however, and scooted home. Smith, trying to steal second in the freak play, was nabbed, ending the inning. Coates' run stood, however.

NEW STATE TAX PROGRAM SEEKS $120,000,000 IN NEW REVENUE

TENTATIVE PLAN ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE

Final Draft of Scheme Will Be Started Next Week

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—The preliminary studies of the joint legislative tax steering committee were brought to a close today with a tentative program before it embracing about $120,000,000 in new revenue.

Next week it expects to begin a final draft of a set of tax recommendations for presentation to the senate and assembly.

After agreeing yesterday upon a tentative program for $76,000,000 in new taxes out of $109,000,000 needed to balance the $394,000,000 Merriam budget, the committee added $44,000,000 more today.

Most of the additional revenue, or about $41,000,000 would come from transfer to the state of automobile property taxes and imposition of a 3 per cent tax on consumers' utility bills, in effect an extension of the sales tax to light and gas charges.

The other taxes to fill out the temporary program embraced a 1-cent increase in the present levy on beer and an increase of the truck tax. These would return about $3,000,000 to the state.

It was explained the action by no means indicates the committee is pledged to any definite set of figures and it is likely that such other revenue sources as an ad valorem levy or a severance tax may be thrown into the picture.

For Rich said he thought a vote on the automobile tax was only "a back door to an ad valorem."

Duval said he had been told that 75 per cent of the assembly would "vote against an ad valorem but might take the automobile tax."

Some opposition was expressed toward the utility bill tax which it was estimated would raise $16,000,000 a biennium, but there was only slight discussion upon the proposed $1,000,000 increase in the beer tax or the $2,000,000 increase of the truck tax.

WILL OUTLINE LABOR PLAN

Action taken here on Tuesday, which means that agricultural workers on SERRA rolls must either accept farm jobs or be dropped from relief, will be brought to the attention of the State Relief commission at a meeting in San Francisco next Saturday.

Supervisor W. C. Jerome of Santa Ana will attend the session and will outline local developments to the commission, he said today.

On his trip north tomorrow he will be accompanied by Byron V. Curry, Orange county welfare director. Both men will attend a meeting of the California Association of Public Welfare executives in San Francisco. Curry is a member of the organization and Jerome has been asked to speak on the topic, "As a Supervisor Sees Relief and Welfare."

For the past year Jerome has been a member of the emergency relief committee of the California Supervisors association.

Conduit, 100 Years Old, Is Found at Capistrano Mission

The good Fathers of the old mission at San Juan Capistrano here today sought a solution to a discovery made yesterday.

A workman digging a conduit struck a hard substance and found what appeared to be a drain built 100 years or more ago. Parallel trenches were dug, and more masonry was found. Ramon Yorba, who began his work as a laborer at the mission 69 years ago, was unable to explain the find.

T. E. Stephenson, head of the Orange County Historical society, on remarking on the find, said that evidently the masonry uncovered yesterday was a part of the elaborate irrigation system that had been established sometime after the mission was founded in 1776.

Mr. Stephenson said that the old mission started to go into a decline in about 1883, and he believed that the recent discovery was probably constructed early in 1800, when conduits and ditches were built to bring water to the mission from the Trabuco and San Juan creeks.

Typewriter Increase Demand Cited

Maybe it's the "send a dime and make a fortune" ad that is the cause of the increased demand for typewriters, or perhaps it is because business is picking up generally. The latter seems the more likely.

At any rate, Bob Fernandez, vice president and manager of the R. A. Tiernan Typewriter company, has announced that his firm recently placed orders for a total of 550 new typewriters. Mr. Tiernan, who is president and buyer for the firm, is in New York at the present time, where he has placed orders with the L. C. Smith company for 250 silent Smiths, 200 silent Coronas, and 100 standard Coronas. The Tiernan company is also negotiating for the purchase of a large number of used machines for rebuilding purposes.

MODERN PIONEERS TREK TO MATANUSKA VALLEY

Sixty-seven families from Minnesota stopped in San Francisco en route to Alaska where they will settle in Matanuska valley on 40-acre sites. They sailed from San Francisco aboard an army transport yesterday. ALL SANTA THRILLS AS NEW PAPER IS BORN

There's a special thrill about a "first time," be it trans-oceanic airplane hop, owning a puppy, battling a homer, milking a cow—or starting a newspaper.

There was a special thrill yesterday afternoon for members of The Journal staff, visiting newspaper men (some of whom had seen new papers and old papers operate all the way from Shanghai to Manchester, and from one Portland to the other.)

The thrill began when the "starter" plates were clamped on the big Hoe press, rose to a roar as the motor began slowly to turn the wheels, and climbed to a climax as the freshly-printed Journals started shooting out of the folder to the accompaniment first of a low-pitched whirr-r-r-r and then an eager, accelerating roar when the machine slid into full speed.

Carriers Await Papers.

The thrill was shared by the young army of carriers, waiting in their near-by quarters for their first load.

It was shared by a four-deep crowd of spectators jammed against the wide iron gate at the Bush street entrance of The Journal plant.

It was shared, from a distance, by eager subscribers telephoning in messages, by passers-by who called a friendly greeting. It was shared, through some electric impulse, by callers who happened to be in the flower-decked front office on the Fifth street side of the building.

It was shared, in a very real measure, by the mechanical forces—the printers, stereotypers, and press crew—who had labored since 7 a. m. at the job of preparing the forms.

John Scripps There.

It was a thrill felt most keenly of all, perhaps, by youthful John P. Scripps, scion of generations of newspaper publishers, who eagerly watching every step in the process, thus celebrated May day in seeing his first newspaper venture launched as the press began its rhythmic, triumphant scream.

SOUTH DISTRICT LEADS UNDER FHA PLAN

The district of Southern California is leading all other districts and state offices in respect to accomplishment under both titles one and two of the federal housing administration, according to word received here this morning from Fred W. Morrow, district director whose offices are in Los Angeles. The statement issued by Mr. Morrow means that Southern California as a unit is accomplishing more in the way of educating the public and launching their program than any state or district in the country.

Wilbur Barr, head of the chamber of commerce handling FHA matters in Santa Ana, school will be conducted at 9 a. m. tomorrow in the building's exchange offices, 206 North Main. The purpose of the meeting is to bring together material men, architects, painters, nursery men and landscape architects to explain details of the FHA, and to educate workers under Mrs. Volia Oxart, county field superintendent for the FHA in methods of approaching the public.

Mrs. Oxart and Regional Superintendent James H. Berry will attend a luncheon tomorrow noon at the Green Oak cafe where they will discuss future plans of the FHA with members of the chamber of commerce FHA committee. Arrangements for the noon meeting were made by Wilbur Barr, chairman of the committee.

Elks Club Ladies To End Card Parties

Monthly card parties of the Elks club ladies will be concluded for the season tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when a May day card party is held at the club house. Prizes will be given for auction and contract bridge. A miniature May pole will center the floral decorations of the tea table and candles of pastel shades will light the room.

Given to swell the charity fund, the party will be under the direction of Mrs. R. E. Walker, social chairman, assisted by Mrs. C. D. Davis, Harvey Gardner, and George Harless. Members and friends are invited.

Creed Services Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. at the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors for Walter M. Creed, 79, who died Monday.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Frank Walton, Los Angeles; Mrs. Goldie Shinar, Happy Camp, Calif.; and Mrs. Ethel Lee, Diamond Springs, Calif.; one son, Jess Creed of San Francisco; and one sister, Mrs. Ella M. Morse of Santa Ana. Mr. Creed was a retired school teacher.

Tella Child Funeral Set for Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 2 o'clock has been set for funeral services for Betty Jean Tella, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Tella of 811 Fairview street, who died yesterday.

Rites will be read at the Harrell and Brown funeral home.

Concluding the evening, refreshments were served by a committee, in conjunction with the women's auxiliary under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. William Hart.

ROMANTIC URGE LANDS TRIO IN CELL

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) TAIHOKU, Formosa, May 2. (AP) A romantic quest for adventure and sunken treasure in the south seas had brought a youthful former United States naval lieutenant and two companions today to a dismal jail cell in the Formosan port of Taito.

The three adventurers, William Shinn Gates, 28-year-old resident of Lancaster, Pa.; H. G. Wrede, a German, and Gene Roubin, a Russian, were held for investigation under grave suspicion of espionage.

Against Gates the Japanese suspicions were particularly aroused because his United States passport, other papers and own statements disclosed him to be a graduate from the United States naval academy at Annapolis in 1929 and a lieutenant on the retired list for the past 30 months.

The trio embarked from Shanghai April 2 on the Flying Dutchman, a 30-foot German ketch. Before they set sail, Gates told newspapermen:

"Our first port of call will be the north coast of Formosa, where we will take on supplies. From there we will go to the Babuyan islands, north of Luzon, where it is reported there are 30 women to every man."

"We expect to remain long enough to verify this before resuming our voyage through the Philippines and New Guinea to Amoda, Australia and Africa."

LONGER FIGHTS FARMERS DENY WAGES LOW

SACRAMENTO, May 2. (AP)—With an eye to the financial possibilities of a heavyweight championship boxing match in California, the Assembly public morals committee will hold a special hearing tomorrow on a bill which would legalize 12-round bouts to a decision. Earlier in the session, Champion Max Baer urged the assembly to extend the present 10-round limit.

The bill, by Assemblyman Redwine of Hollywood, also would outlaw rabbit punches and kicking in wrestling matches and make technical changes in the system of issuing licenses of referees and clubs.

The measure came up for brief discussion yesterday, but was postponed.

Parents' Sentence Suspended by Judge

Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison this morning imposed a three months suspended jail sentence on Mr. and Mrs. Willie Doctolero who pleaded guilty to charges of failure to send their children Julia, 13, and Migulla, 15, to school. The parents of the two children agreed to send their children to school on warning from Judge Morrison.

Judge Morrison postponed pronouncement of judgment in the case of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith who were brought into court to answer charges similar to those brought against Mr. and Mrs. Doctolero.

Nazarene Church Board Elects New Officers

Members of the First Church of Nazarene board were elected at the annual meeting held last night. Trustees chosen were W. A. Culbertson, J. L. Shaar, and D. P. Botzloff, stewards are Mrs. Beulah Wilson, Hazel Newman, Elmer Ward, J. V. Glenn, and Lida Katz; church school board members are Mrs. J. L. Shafer, Lester Shambaugh, N. E. Owen, Mrs. John Swafford and Mrs. Mary Pennix.

Delegates who will be sent to the district assembly in Pasadena June 4-9 are Mrs. Sarah Shambaugh, Mrs. J. L. Shaar, Mrs. G. Waddie, Mrs. John Swafford, and Miss Norris Warwick.

The Rev. G. E. Waddie was called to serve the church another year.

A. A. U. W. Soon to Finish Survey

International Relations Charted

Four-Month Checkup On Publications Made in County

Orange county branch, American Association of University Women, is nearing completion of a four-month Carnegie survey of the international relations element in adult education influences in the county, it was learned today from Mrs. Horace Scott of the A. A. U. W. The survey, which began Jan. 5 and will end May 10, is a branch of the Carnegie survey being made in the Los Angeles metropolitan area, those places contacted by the red cars from Los Angeles, and the Orange women are working under general leadership of Mrs. Malborne Graham of Los Angeles, state chairman of international relations in the A. A. U. W.

WHAT THEY SAY
What newspapers are printing in the way of international relations topics, what radio programs are being given, what the churches are doing, what magazines are using and similar information is being assembled and tallied by the 12 Orange county women working on the survey.

The survey is expected to compare constructive work being done in a loosely-knit and a more centralized metropolitan area such as New York City.

TO MEET MAY 9
The Orange county branch will meet Thursday evening, May 9, at 7:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. rooms to hear an address on "The Work of the A. A. U. W." by Mrs. Arthur Heinemann of Los Angeles, south Pacific director of the association. Mrs. Heinemann will also tell plans for the coming national biennial convention scheduled for June 24-29 in Los Angeles. Election of branch officers is slated for the business hour.

PLAN ANNUAL PARTY
Plans are now being completed for the annual junior college student loan fund party the A. A. U. W. will sponsor Saturday afternoon, May 11, in the Ebel club Peacock room.

After the 1 p. m. dessert course, entertainment will include auction and contract bridge with pivoting or rotating, anagrams and conversation. Music is being arranged by Miss Clara Spelman. Mrs. Milton Newcomer, 998-M, is taking reservations for the party. Miss Lillian Dickson is in charge of ticket sales.

Mrs. E. E. Knie is general chairman of the annual party. Mrs. Merritt White is planning decorations. Miss Dorothy Decker is arranging for a fashion show. The university women have given similar parties for some five years for the benefit of worthy students who have difficulty in financing their stay in Santa Ana junior college.

FIFTY-FIFTYERS TO HAVE DANCE
Members of the Southern California Fifty-Fifty club will have a buffet supper dance Saturday evening, May 11, at Lakewood Country club, Long Beach.

Dancing will start at 8:30 p. m. Programs are planned.

BEACH VILLA OPENED BY SORORITY

Sigma Tau Psi sorority girls were busy yesterday moving into the two-story English style home on Balboa Island which is to be their headquarters this month. This evening the sorority will have a regular meeting at the beach house, 119 Crystal avenue.

Plans for teas and parties are already in the air, and Jean Rowland, chapter president, anticipates an active month for the sorority.

GALA DAY SLATED BY P.-T. A.

From pink lemonade to pony rides, plans for the Jefferson Parent-Teacher association carnival tomorrow on the school grounds, indicate a festive occasion.

Concession booths will carry gay decorations, according to Mrs. Hugh Gerard, chairman. Booths are in charge of Mrs. Gilbert Platt, who is selling homemade candy; Mrs. Clarence Bond, needlework; Mrs. George Watson, cooked foods; Mrs. H. R. Brinkerhoff, lemonade and pop; Mrs. S. R. Butler, fish pond; Mrs. Charles Givens, ice cream; Mrs. Dexter Ball, white elephants; Mrs. Nolan Dos, hot dogs, sandwiches, coffee and chili beans; and Mrs. E. T. McFadden, pony rides.

Directed by sixth grade students under Aubrey L. Glines, principal, amusement zone features will include a bowling alley, a miniature golf club, dart and target zone, marble games, fortune teller, flower vendors, wild animal show, strong man, wild man, baseball stars, swimming match, "quintuplets" and a continuous moving picture show of interest to children.

First grade students will give a may pole dance planned by Mrs. Martha Hill, director.

Forerunning the program to be given in the school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. by students, presentation of the following P.-T. A. officers, elected last week, will be made: Dr. Hester Olewiler, president; Mrs. Paul Vissman, secretary; Miss Mary Coffman, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Harwood, treasurer.

No fee will be charged for admission to the grounds, according to Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, retiring president. Nominal charges will be made for the various concessions.

TWO ENTERTAIN AT MUSICAL TEA

Miss Lella Watson and Mrs. J. Parley Smith shared hostess honors with a musical tea recently in the Smith home, 711 South Broadway.

Everard Stovall, young Santa Ana concert pianist, presented the program, playing a Bach prelude, "Romanza" (Sebelius) and a Chopin etude.

The tea table was centered with a flat pink bowl holding coral transversal daisies. Jade tapers in silver bases stood on the lace linens. Tiny sandwiches, cakes, mints, salted nuts and tea were served late in the afternoon.

Guests included Dean and Mrs. McKee Flisk, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Beaman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, Mrs. Marion Watson, Miss Josephine Arnoldy, Miss Mary Swann, Miss Ada McFadden, Miss Elizabeth Wyant, Miss Agnes Todd Miller and J. Parley Smith, Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones, Los Angeles.

PLACE CHANGED FOR N. D. G. W. TEA

According to announcement made this morning by Mrs. Florence Watson, invitations chairman, Santa Ana parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, has changed the place of its May 13 pioneer women's tea from Bowers museum to the educational building of First Christian church.

The change in place was made in order that the honor guests for the tea might not have to climb stairs. Mrs. Watson stated that plans are progressing rapidly for the tea.

Bridge Club Husbands Honored

Husbands and members of the Wednesday Bridge club were entertained this week with a dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth and Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Clark were hosts.

Mrs. Jennie Maude Knox of the Wilshire college, faculty in Los Angeles, a long-time friend of Mrs. Clark, planned attractive pastel appointments for the dinner tables. Each small table was laid with pastel tulle and linens, and centered with a nosegay of pastel flowers with a black vase. Flowers were from the gardens of several friends of the hostesses.

The evening was spent in playing contract bridge. Table prizes were given.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hatzfeld, Mr. and Mrs. James Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Parke Roper, club members and husbands, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank and Mr. and Mrs. G. Tutthill, special guests. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Davis entertained the club yesterday in the former's home.

L. A. Philharmonic Concerts Slated At Claremont

Tuesday afternoon and evening in Bridges auditorium, Claremont, the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra will present two concerts, the first of which marks the close of the current Claremont Colleges Artist course.

A number of Orange countyans, holders of season tickets for the 8:15 p. m. concert, when Otto Klemperer will conduct, are being invited especially to the 4 p. m. concert, for which Henry Svendsroff will be conductor.

Programs follow:
Afternoon, "Don Juan Overture" (Mozart); Largo from the "New World Symphony" (Dvorak); "Scherzo" (Debussy) (German); "Deer Dance" (Skilton); "The River Moldau" (Smetana); "Autumn" from the Ballet Suite "The Seasons" (Glazunoff); "Dance of the Blessed Spirits, Orpheus and Eurydice" (Gluck); and "Perpetuum Mobile" (Strauss).

Evening, Prelude to "Lohengrin" (Wagner); "Sorcerer's Apprentice" (Dukas); "Therba" (Debussy); and "Symphony in C Major" (Schubert).

EDISON P.-T. A. FETES FACULTY

Edison school teachers were the dinner guests of the P.-T. A. yesterday evening at the Doris Kathryn tea room. Gifts and corsages were presented the honorees.

A program of games, group singing, and a tap dance by Mrs. V. Mitchell and Miss Dorothy Jensen followed the dinner. Present were Mesdames Hazel Maxwell, Margaret Alexander, Mary Maddock, Nellie Hughes, Marian Valley, Mitchell, Grace Musick, C. L. Jacobs, C. Rowe, J. Kelly, N. H. Crowder, E. Nichols, Laverne Guiley, J. Miller, L. F. Davis, and R. A. McMahon, and the Misses Jesse and Eva Marshall.

Post-Nuptial Shower Given

A post-nuptial shower was given by a group of Santa Ana junior college Latinas club members last evening at the Roy Wheeler home, 712 Bush street, honoring Mrs. Wheeler (Doris Rockwell), whose marriage took place April 17 in the home of Rev. Perry F. Schrock, Congregational minister.

Kitchenware and bathroom gifts were given the honoree. A dessert course was served.

Mrs. Wheeler will complete her course in Santa Ana junior college this year. She is active in Beta Gamma, W. S. A. A. and Y. W. C. A. circles.

Mrs. Wheeler is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and junior college. He is employed in the board of education offices.

Guests at the party were Ruth Christ, Joe Lee Henderson, Adelia McVey, Betty Woods, Suzanne Clark and Bobby Wakeham.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET TONIGHT

Initiation of new members will combine with a Mother's day commemoration in the program of the American Legion auxiliary meeting today at 8 p. m. in the Veterans hall.

Readings and musical numbers centered around the mother's day theme have been planned by Mrs. Harold Brown, chairman. A surprise will be presented by the junior auxiliary. The drill team will conduct the initiation service. Mrs. Ralph Hoover will be chairman of refreshments. Mrs. David Jellis will preside.

OPERA SINGERS ARE SOUGHT BY CLUB

You, too, can sing in opera! If you like to sing, Earl M. Waycott, director of the Bel Canto club, invites you to attend the club's rehearsal Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the telephone company association room.

The Bel Canto club, recently reorganized to include men as well as women singers, is open to all who sing, particularly those who would like to sing in "H.M.S. Pinafore" next fall.

Light opera revivals feature the plans of Mr. Waycott, who organized five years ago and now directs the Bel Canto. Originally for the telephone girls, the club is Mr. Waycott's leisure-time project. He and his accompanist, Mrs. Blanche Hackleton, who give their time without remuneration, hope to extend club membership to a community wide scope.

"Pinafore" will be cast later in the season, Mr. Waycott said. "St. Louis" has a magnificent civic opera house constructed through the efforts of a group started much as Bel Canto began.

"If we in Santa Ana and Orange county can coordinate our musical activities, an auditorium for civic musical presentations might be a worthy project for the future."

FAIR PROJECT UNCHANGED

The situation in respect to an Orange County exhibit at the world's fair, starting in San Diego May 29, remains virtually unchanged today as far as official action is concerned.

The board of supervisors never has made a formal expression of its attitude, but it is understood that only three of the members favor the project, with two being opposed to it.

Engineer Will Tell Of Work on Golden Gate Structure

F. A. McClain, general manager of erection on the Golden Gate bridge will project three reels of film showing bridge construction work tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the Garden Grove high school auditorium. The assembly is open to all without charge.

The engineer is the father of William V. McClain of Garden Grove, who asked him to come down and talk before the Lion's club. When it was found the talk would be of such general interest, the Lions planned to make the meeting public. McClain will answer questions at the close of the meeting.

Vesper Services To Be Weekly Feature At Church Here

A May series of Sunday vesper services will open this week at the Church of the Messiah, according to announcement today from the Rev. W. J. Hatter.

Haltered McCormac, accredited to be one of the leading younger organizers of Southern California, will take the console regularly at 4:40 p. m. Following the recital, the Rev. Hatter will conduct evening prayer and give a short address. Services are scheduled to close promptly at 5:50.

This Sunday's organ numbers will include: "Wake Us Lord, We Pray Thee," by Bach; "Fantasy of Favorite Hymn Tunes," by Calder; "Gothic Suite," by Boellman.

Prorate May Halt Sales by Dairy Men Without Licenses

Three dozen independent milk producers in Orange county were in danger of being enjoined from selling milk today by the agricultural prorate commission.

The prorate act, which became effective on milk yesterday, requires every operator to have two certificates—a primary one allowing him to sell and a secondary one allowing him an amount he may sell under the act. An agent of the commission was in Santa Ana yesterday, but only 12 of about four dozen independents in the county appeared to procure their certificates.

Provisions of the prorate act not only allow the authority to enjoin the producer, but to fine him for violation of the act. Those who wish to conform may procure certificates at 1404 C. Chapman building, Los Angeles.

Cooperative associations procured certificates for their members through previous arrangements.

Gardena Men Are Convicted

Superior Judge James L. Allen will pronounce judgment tomorrow on Edwin Thatcher and Malcolm H. Hugson of Gardena, who were convicted yesterday afternoon on charges of stealing two horses from K. Yamashita, Laguna Beach rancher.

The grand theft charge on which they were convicted carries with it a term of one to 10 years in San Quentin, unless probation is granted. So far the defendants have not applied for leniency.

TOWNSEND CLUB
Townsend Club No. 3: Meets tonight at 7:30 at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Garney and West Sixth street. Members are urged to attend as business of importance is scheduled. Visitors are always welcome.

DOLL PRIZE

Barbara Virginia Henderson, 2½ years old, of Flushing, L. I., decided to enter her doll in a best-dressed doll contest conducted by a New York department store.

Considering a costume, she liked her own pretty well, so she dressed her doll exactly like herself—and it won first prize! Above are Barbara herself and in miniature.

K. OF C. TO HOLD INITIATION

Sixty candidates will be initiated into Santa Ana Knights of Columbus No. 1542 Sunday when the chapter confers major degrees on the largest class recorded in its annals.

Heading the list of delegates who will be guests at the event, the Honorable Joseph Scott will be the principal speaker at the dinner to be given in the American Legion hall at 6:30 for members and their families. The event will mark the twentieth anniversary of Mr. Scott's initiation into the local lodge. Short talks will be given also by State Deputy William Schweigert of San Francisco, State Secretary Dr. John A. Schwarm of Los Angeles, State Treasurer Leo Broderick of San Bernardino and past State Deputy Benno Brink of Los Angeles. Representatives will attend from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pomona, San Diego, Riverside, San Bernardino, Anaheim, and other nearby councils.

City honoraries who have been invited include Mayor F. C. Rowland, Councilmen William Penn, Plummer Bruns, Joseph Smith and Ernest Layton, City Attorney Lew Blodgett and Chief of Police Floyd Howard.

Seven o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church has been scheduled for the day's first event. Second degree work will open the initiation rites at 1 o'clock, followed by major degree orders at 3:30.

Grand Knights Charles W. Wolford will present Dr. V. A. Rosister who is to act as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

ACADEMY STAR AT BROADWAY

Winner of the award of the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences for the best feminine film performance in 1934, Claudette Colbert comes to the screen of the Broadway theater today in her latest starring picture, "Private Worlds," which will show for three days along with a second feature, "Eight Bells."

Charles Boyer, noted French star; Joan Bennett, Helen Vinson and Joel McCrea head the supporting cast in "Private Worlds," adapted from the best-selling novel of the same title by Phyllis Bottome. Miss Colbert is cast as a brilliant psychiatrist, skilled in probing the loves and hates that lie in the "private worlds" of other people's minds, but as naive in understanding her own secret thoughts as any child.

"Eight Bells" is an exciting story of the sea, which tells the tale of what happens when a beautiful debutante stows away aboard a dirty China-bound freighter manned by 60 seamen.

LODGE MEETS TONIGHT
Jubilee lodge, Royal Arch Masons, will convene tonight at 7:30 to make plans for future social events. Second rank initiation work has been scheduled.

PROCEDURE ON LOANS TOLD

C. A. Palmer, manager of the Orange County National Farm Loan association, issued a statement today outlining the organization's recent activities and explaining phases of the procedure in handling loans.

On Orange county property, all applications for Federal Land bank loans or land bank commissions loans must be made through the local farm loan association, he said. If the original loan on Orange county property was made through a similar farm loan agency elsewhere, applications for additional loans must now be made through the local organization.

Total loans in force on the books of the Orange county organization April 1 were $3,433,100. Forty applications for loans totaling $602,400 were pending on April 1. Only one borrower was delinquent on interest due the Federal Land bank and the land bank commissioner, this payment due being $230.25.

The Orange county organization has a Class A rating with the Federal Land bank, in respect to delinquencies, Palmer said. This means that if anyone pays off his loan now, all the stock which he has paid for will be returned.

WESTERN STOCK RISE BRINGS OPTIMISM

Monthly Report Of
S. F. Exchange
Shows Gains

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2 (AP)—The rise of western stocks during April gave confirmation to optimistic business statements emanating from many quarters.

The San Francisco Stock exchange, for example, in its monthly report showed that of 103 stocks traded, 77 went higher, 16 lower and 15 held unchanged.

Traditional speculative opinion is that the trend of stocks forebodes what is about to happen to business. In this light the rise looks good, particularly when viewed from the angle of income-producing activity.

The 11,637,381 shares had more business in April than in any month since February, 1934. Transactions totaled 555,434 shares, which changed hands for $8,233,674. This volume was 34 per cent higher than the March turnover, and the value virtually half again as much.

The month's rising prices added 270 million dollars to the market value of stocks listed on the exchange. The 11,637,381 shares were worth $2,589,939,248 at final prices, compared with $2,317,329,362 a month ago. The current valuation is the highest since June last year.

Price appreciations by groups for the month were: oils 15.7 per cent, sugars 14.4, machinery-steel 10.2, mining 9.5, public utilities 9.3, banks-investments 7.1, department stores 6.9, manufacturing 6.1, transportation 2.4, insurance 1.4 and miscellaneous 1.3. Foods receded .54 per cent—the only group to decline.

SILVER BOOM TARNISHED

By VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The silver boom seemed somewhat tarnished today and bullish sentiment in the stock exchange and other speculative markets was dampened.

The slump in London silver prices pulled down non-ferrous metal shares and much of the rest of the industrial share list sagged with them, despite isolated strength in Chrysler and a few others, and comparative steadiness in rails and utilities. Grains sagged in Chicago, and in New York cotton, sugar and rubber futures were off a little. The dollar was firm in foreign exchange dealings. The bond market was somewhat mixed.

Chrysler, responding to its extra dividend of 25 cents and favorable first quarter earnings, rose 2 points in active dealings, but General Motors was held back by the shutdown of plants resulting from the Toledo labor controversy. Such non-ferrous metals as Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and Howe Sound dropped a point or two, and American Smelting and Anaconda were off fractions.

Industrials losing 1 to 2 points included Eastman, Allied Chemical and Coca Cola, while U. S. Steel, Case, Johns-Manville, and several others lost fractions.

American Telephone was a firm spot, up a point, and Pullman and Westinghouse Electric registered similar gains.

LOS ANGELES, May 2 (AP)—California walnut growers are swapping their products for burliap and gas pipe in Germany.

M. L. Sale, assistant sales manager of the growers' association, said 2665 bags of walnuts were shipped from here May 10 for Hamburg as part payment for 550,000 yards of burliap.

In another deal, 800 110-pound bags of walnuts are valued at $30,000, the burliap at $45,000, as part payment for 200 tons of gas pipe to be used in the oil fields.

Witcox, who has been a close observer of similar movements in other counties, outlined preliminary steps which must be taken.

Responding from his advice, the appointment of a committee to meet with similar committees in other counties will consider a federated marketing association.

When formed, the association resemble the citrus marketing set up.

The committee is Clarence Brown of San Juan Capistrano and C. J. Cogan, manager of the Irvine ranch vegetable department.

Butter and Eggs

LOS ANGELES, May 2 (AP)—Produce exchange receipts:

Butter, 50,500 lbs.; cheese, 51,500 lbs.; eggs no case.

Manila Prison Head

Slain With Axe

MANILA, P. I., May 2 (AP)—The superintendent of grim Bilibid prison was killed with a hand axe and his severed head was shot down by a guard today.

Prison officials said Pedro Pilosa, convicted robber, struck down Captain Vincente Fernandez because Fernandez had disciplined the prisoner. A guard on the prison wall shot Pilosa, possibly fatally wounding him, when he saw the convict sneak up behind the superintendent and strike him with a hand axe.

Want Ad Heiress

By ROB EDEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY: FRANK CARRY, 21, discovers that she is being shadowed by a tall, slender, blond man. When she considers it, the thing seems ridiculous for she is only an obscure stenographer and has no money or influential relatives.

Her roommate, NINA MARKHAM, refuses even to listen seriously when Frank tells her about it. Nina is more interested in the new black dress which Frank is wearing to a dance with DAVID LEWIS. At Nina's suggestion Frank wears an old-fashioned cameo locket she had found on the street.

David and Frank leave in David's car, unaware that they are being followed by the mysterious stranger in a taxi.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY: CHAPTER TWO.

Frank and David were dancing their third dance when the girl saw him. The sight of him came as a shock because for the last hour she had completely forgotten his existence. But there he was, standing in the doorway.

She caught her breath and missed a step.

"What's the matter?" David asked, for he could feel her slender body tremble in his arms.

"Nothing. Dance me to the door, David, please. And hurry!"

It was a rather impossible demand because the floor was badly crowded, but David did his best.

Frank tried to keep her eye on the door, but even this was difficult. People got in her way. First a tall girl, then a tall man until she was almost frantic because she couldn't see whether he was still standing where she had seen him last. But he was the man. She knew that although he wasn't wearing either a dark blue suit or the tweeds of this afternoon.

At the edge of the dance floor she broke away from David and hurried ahead, weaving her way through the tables. A large party of guests now occupied the doorway, and the head waiter was smiling as he greeted them.

"Where are you going?" David caught up with Frank.

"Wait for me. I'll be right back."

The new party moved forward, and Frank saw that the doorway was empty. Well, he might have gone into the lobby of the hotel—

Stumbling on the long skirt of her dress, she brushed her way past the check desk which was occupied only by a pretty girl with blond hair, and then into the corridor.

Two men were walking down the hall, but neither of them was the man. One was short and stout, and the other was tall and dark. Another big party was coming in from the street, but she didn't recognize any of them.

Tall, Slim Blond

From the corridor, she flew into the lobby and scanned the faces of the men who were there. The lobby was large and there were a good many men standing around, but not a face escaped her. Tall, slim, blond, Tall, slim, blond—

Several of the male occupants of the lobby were tall and slim and blond, but none of them was the man she wanted, she had to admit to herself when she had been there fully 10 minutes, walking from one end to the other.

Her cheeks were burning as she went back to the door, partly from excitement and partly from anger. Following her here, too! This had to stop—and stop right now! She had to know why he was doing it—and she would have known if she had reached the doorway soon enough and asked him. For that was what she had planned to do.

"Looking for someone, Miss?" A page boy appeared at her side.

"Why—yes," she blurted, hardly knowing what she was saying.

"I can page him for you, if you'll give me his name."

That was the trouble. She didn't know his name.

"Never mind. Oh, is there a writing room or a smoking room in the hotel?"

"Writing room to the left, and smoking room to the right," the boy informed her.

Frank went to the writing room first, but the only occupants were two elderly women at the desks. The smoking room was fairly deserted, too. Three middle-aged men talking at a table, four gray-haired men playing bridge at another; so, discouraged, she returned to the dance floor and found David waiting for her nervously.

"Thought you'd never get back," he said, taking her arm.

Mysterious Note

The music had stopped, so they went directly to their table. Frank looked around the room again carefully, but she didn't find the face she wanted to see. She had just finished her survey when a waiter bent over her solicitously, a pot of coffee in his right hand.

"More coffee, Miss?"

She shook her head and expected him to leave, but instead he started filling her cup.

"I said I didn't want more coffee," she said a little sharply.

His answer was a low whisper. "If you'll look under your plate, Miss, you'll find a note."

The girl looked back quickly, but the waiter had gone. David was rising from his chair.

MODEST MAIDENS

"When dad and mother were married she couldn't cook a thing!"
"Oh, then she's learned since?"
"No. Father has."

WE CONFESS

(A few haphazard remarks on Journal editorial policy, some of them prompted by questions Santa Anans have asked.)

THE G. O. P., as it was once known, seems, we admit, rather to have gone to seed as far as being a vital national party is concerned. But, it occasionally produces and elects a surprisingly good official even yet.

The democratic party right now is doing an awfully good job in certain lines and in certain places. Nevertheless it DOES blunder every so often.

As for the minor parties, we can't hand them much at present writing. The communistic creed is as strange in our American atmosphere as the folk ways of the Eskimos—and as out of place. The other minority groups stress lip-sided notions and forget broad national needs.

The Journal declares itself independent of them all as parties. We'll applaud and support from time to time the leader, whatever his tag, who comes before the people sincerely with the best American program and who demonstrates ability to carry out his promises.

The reds, organized and unorganized? We don't like their methods and proposals. And that goes, too, for other extremists. We don't like the Hitler, be they German reichfuhrer himself or American imitators and would-be. We don't like witch burners.

We don't like war profiteers, war glorifiers, war promoters or war apologists.

We don't like demagogues.

We don't like candidates who are full of promises and bombast and short on daily service in their respective jobs.

We DO like the patience, tolerance, good nature and American common sense which we discover in about 95 per cent of our fellow citizens. It is a marvel to us how they retain these qualities under the grind of the conditions we all have faced in recent years. But they go cheerily on, electing, by and large, good representative men to office; carrying on constructive civic work through chambers of commerce, service clubs, women's organizations and the like; educating their children in first-class California schools; accepting their respective individual jobs day by day; passing along a word of cheer and friendship to those they pass on the road; and—collectively—building here in Orange county a grand community, throughout California a wonderful state, and contributing a full share to the welfare of an United States that is, in the opinion of us Journalites, a tolerably satisfactory country, after all.

MILK CAPS AND WHISKERS

THE very beautiful and enterprising city of Orange refreshed several thousands of Orange county persons yesterday when it played host at its annual May day fête. To the man on the street who watches the parade such enterprises are colorful and interesting but not so significant as they are to the man "on the committee." To him and to business men who have made the affair possible by contributions, the frolic means long hours of hard work, anxiety and heavy responsibility.

Sometimes we wonder if it is worth while. But the more we wonder, the more carefully we consider such undertakings, the more convinced we are that they are decidedly profitable. They should be encouraged and continued.

This modern battle for existence, these tense moments we experience that we may achieve the comforts and a few of the luxuries we are worthy of, are apt to make old men and women of us before it is time. We need to relax, to play a little, to laugh at foolish things, to forget the Huey Longs and the Father Coughlins and the Farleys and the Johnsons—we need to return to simple things, to the joys of our childhood and to our fathers.

Also we need to mingle with our neighbors. Golf and bridge may be a bore to a lot of us but there is universal thrill in a parade such as was held at Orange yesterday: there is genuine amusement and interest when we are told Robert McAuley, 10 years old, has pursued his hobby of milk cap collecting until he has assembled 7,000 of them. And we marvel at some of the whiskers that can be grown in Southern California and we shiver to think that some good but unfortunate man might be ducked because he couldn't grow any at all.

We were a bit more serene and not half so worried about the future after we returned from the Orange frolic yesterday.

Good work, neighbors; do it again.

WE'RE OVERWHELMED!

WE MEN and women of The Journal were made exceedingly proud and happy yesterday by the flood of congratulatory letters and telegrams that arrived from many official, literary and civic leaders.

Topping the list, of course, was the White House letter. Over the signature of Franklin D. Roosevelt, it wished us success. Establishment of The Journal, wrote the president, "is an evidence of confidence in the present and future welfare of the country."

"Undoubtedly," he added, "this confidence finds its basis in the continued improvement of conditions generally. The creation of new plants by private enterprise contributes immeasurably to the achievement of efforts being made in the direction of real national recovery."

The president is perfectly correct in what he says. The Journal's appearance in this community is, in fact, a direct outgrowth of a very real confidence which the publishers of this paper feel in the future of the nation, the future of Orange county, the future of Santa Ana. Yes, and a confidence, too, in the PRESENT. General conditions are improving. If the creation of our plant at Fifth and Bush streets has contributed just a little to this heightened activity, certainly we are happy to have helped to that extent.

And as for Mr. Roosevelt's final sentence, "I congratulate you and wish you success," we say simply, we thank you, Mr. President. Also we congratulate YOU on great achievements already realized, and we wish YOU every success in your program for the future.

A LONG WAYS AWAY

THE Merriam administration's program for unifying all California highways under state control has fallen by the wayside, just as has, or will, the plan to consolidate the 58 counties down into five or some other relatively small number. And for just the same reason; namely, that there are too many highly interested local interests throughout the state opposed to the changes.

Theoretically, both plans are attractive. Practically, they might give us an improvement, if adopted. But, for a long while to come there is little chance that either will be tried. Supervisors, road bosses and a great many other citizens oppose highway unification. These, together with a great many other county officials, oppose county consolidation. We all admit the possible benefits offered—but we all have a lot of community pride which rebels at the idea of losing localized control over affairs.

Herbert Witherspoon is off to a running start as the new head of the Metropolitan opera. His home-spun touches are a welcome relief to the absurd pomposities of the retiring Gatti-Casazza. He is expected to humanize the opera, to bow as low to the gallery as the horseshoe circle.

Born in Buffalo, his 62 years have been varied. Although he started out to be a painter, most of his activities have been musical. He was an actor for a time in Germany, toured with several noted orchestras, served as first basso at the Met and has taught in many conservatories. Also lectured.

His first wife was a sister of Rupert Hughes and his second, Florence Hinkle, a soprano. He lives in a modest mid-town hotel and is one of the avenue's indefatigable shoppers. His friendships range from the crosby cop to the biggest figures in art and music. Caruso loved him.

He came to the Metropolitan when it was expiring of inanition, a condition brought largely by stubborn refusal to ride with the modern current. He believes opera can stand alone without the Sam Insults and Otto Kahns. And risks his reputation to prove it.

I have become an 18 karat fan for the quintessential lunacies of Col. Stoopnagle and Budd on the radio. If there is any absurdity more hilarious than that sneering off-side voice as they come on the air yank-yanking, "They haven't got a sponsor!" I have not heard it. In keeping with the times, nothing they do makes sense, but their outrageous clowning does more to debunk sponsoring than a volume of serious treatises.

If Ruth Ewing's adieu to broadcasting is not a lesser version of Bernhard's farewell, she deserves a sweeping bow for an uncommon show of commonsense. She goes out at her peak, bulwarked by a sizable fortune made possible by a commendable thrift. The type of off-key blue channels of which she was an arch-priestess is turning the bend in the road. She steps out of her vehicle in time, well remembered, well liked.

Archibald, MacLish, who wrote the poetic drama of the depressed "Pan," while editing a dollar-a-copy magazine "Fortune," is the newest hall of the intelligentsia. Now a thin escapist with a bulging brow, he was nevertheless once a back for Yale and a swimmer of note. He is planning a play in England to wind up his ties on the reign of King George. Thus an editor who writes, too.

Incidentally, George Horace Lorimer was about the first distinguished editor to crack the notion editors could not write. He created a flurry with his "Letters of Self Made Men" to "His Son," I used to wait at the depot for the 10 p. m. for them. But these were his best effort. Several other writing excursions after that fared badly by comparison. There are instances of established writers turning editors and in each case the ability to write was lost and never regained. Charlie Towne is Paul and Margaret Whiteman an exception.

have a pig-Latin gibberish they indulge on merry occasions and which is understandable to no one but themselves. Billy and Phyllis Seaman also have a double talk; pater that's the despair of listeners-in. Sophie Tucker and Fannie Brice, as I remember, have a Yiddish jabberwock that can go on indefinitely and with mutual comprehension. Then there is the Russian actress Elena Menkova, who talks antiphotically with her husband. She gives a subject of the sentence and he the predicate. Morris Gint and Cobble have a Chinese sing-song lingo they profess to understand.

AFRICAN JUNGLE DEOPENS JOHANNESBURG, So. Africa (AP)—The Woluter, one of the oldest mines on the Witwatersrand and which closed in 1929 as exhausted, has been reopened to take out ores made profitable by the increased prices of gold. Party Sages See But Small Twenty-Five Chance of Radical Union Years Ago

By BYRON PRICE

(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press)

THE newspaper reader who finds himself bewildered by the confusing welter of present-day political headlines may claim at least this consolation: he has plenty of distinguished company.

The plain truth is that even the most experienced and astute of the politicians do not know what to think.

They do not know the real extent of recent defections from President Roosevelt, they can only guess at the actual strength of the various left-wing uprisings, and they have no idea what the republicans will do in 1936.

Only a few elements of the situation stand out clearly enough to be recognized as facts by all schools of political thinkers.

One is the universally accepted belief that Mr. Roosevelt will be renominated as the democratic candidate next year.

Another is the conviction that the only hope of the republicans lies in the attainment of a unity which does not now exist.

A third is the indication that the chances all are against any effective union of the various independent groups which are talking so loudly of independent action in the coming campaign.

BEYOND these rather elemental conclusions few politicians are willing to go, unless they are talking for publication and for political effect.

There is no certainty, for instance, what sort of campaign, Mr. Roosevelt will make, whether he is likely to adopt a middle course calculated to please all but the extremists on both sides.

It is a highly interesting circumstance that democratic headquarters is contemplating a systematic canvass of sentiment to find out just how much the president's popularity has suffered recently. Seidman has there been a political headquarters which seemed more sure of itself in general; yet it is beginning to wonder, and is taking steps to find out, what all the shoddy amounts.

Both party headquarters would like to know, too, how much there is behind the claims of the various left-wing leaders. There is a surprising divergence among the guesses of seasoned politicians as to the actual numerical strength of the followings of Senator Long, Frazier Coughlin, Dr. Townsend, and others.

THE republican uncertainties appear to increase, rather than decrease, as the party leaders seek a basis for unity while mid-westerners are debating with a surprising show of irritation whether to hold their much-advertised get-together at Kansas City, or Des Moines, or somewhere else, or whether to hold it at all.

Senator Borah comes forward with a proposal to nullify whatever they may do.

Mr. Borah is quoted as saying the whole movement is a clever scheme to re-enslave the party to the old leaders he no longer is willing to follow. He proposes a convention of "independents." Just what that might lead to, no one seems to know. But along comes Senator Long, a democrat, and endorses Senator Borah.

The whole jumble of currents and counter-currents inside both parties and among the outsiders is about as inconclusive at this stage as any political situation could be. It will have to be clarified and reclarified by developments, many times over, before it makes political sense, or points to definite results.

Washington.—A decision by the general land office today strengthens the rights of a person who makes a homestead entry upon the public domain conditional upon the failure of a soldier to assert his rights under a declaratory statement.

Philadelphia.—Philadelphia Methodist ministers are endeavoring to start a nation-wide protest against the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

New York.—His Imperial Highness, Prince Tsai Tao, head of the general staff of the Chinese army, and himself just 24 years old, who is visiting in America in quest of information for the rebuilding of China's army, has learned to like American cooking.

New York.—Although no official announcement of the place of holding the international aviation contests is expected for several days, officers of the Aero Club of America were quoted as authority for the statement that Mineola, L. I., had been chosen virtually.

Philadelphia.—The New Deal has many opponents, many of them within the presidential party. But the staunch supporters of its policies, many and noisy, shut down what appears to be a complete silence upon them as far as reaching as these, with their millions of beneficiaries, carry far on their own momentum. They stretch themselves in power and hold tight with tooth and claw. Hopes may be dimmed, but they are not destroyed so short a time. The "forgotten man" still craves a little consideration.

The president must be re-elected. An aggressive and numerous third party might endanger his chances of re-election. Therefore, the president will use his profound political skill to stall off a third party. He will probably go as far to the left as necessary to entice the radicals and discontents to follow him rather than go off into the doubtful byways of third-partyism. The parties have never made much of a dent in our political history.

If writers and poets starve in attics, it's their own fault. There is much more inspiration to be found in cellars.

YE DIARY

Thys being the last day of the month, I do take inventory, as do my custom, and do find, in my desk, a bag of narcissus bulbs, which I did promise my good dame last autumn that I would plant in garden, and she hath been waiting for them to come up most patiently, and Lord! I do lack the courage to tell her the bulbs have never been planted, such a craven position a wife should take. I do go to Cuthbert, the Journal office boy, telling him they do be a new delectable type of Spanish onion, which he, the zany, doth believe. So passed this day.

Step back in the bus, please.

The People

HUEY'S THREAT

Editor, The Journal: Huey Long is making New Deal territory his own. He is making territorial claims at Secretary Wallace at Des Moines, Iowa, the latter's home town. The disgruntled farmers of the corn belt, already belabored by Milo Reno, are roused to frenzied applause by the sizzling tirades of the leather-chunged Kingfish. And so the 1936 presidential campaign gets under way.

The president himself will probably get into action soon. There are indications that he can not much longer ignore Huey's activities. The proposition has been vainly tried to silence the senator. The last resort is the president himself. And when he speaks Huey's triumph will be complete.

There is much talk of a third party, a radical party gathering the disgruntled farmers which flourish in troubled waters. Political wise-aces peer anxiously through the horoscope looking for the leader upon whom the third-party mantle will fall. They look in vain, for in all probability no threatening third party will appear. The president will see to that.

The New Deal has many opponents, many of them within the presidential party. But the staunch supporters of its policies, many and noisy, shut down what appears to be a complete silence upon them as far as reaching as these, with their millions of beneficiaries, carry far on their own momentum. They stretch themselves in power and hold tight with tooth and claw. Hopes may be dimmed, but they are not destroyed so short a time. The "forgotten man" still craves a little consideration.

The president must be re-elected. An aggressive and numerous third party might endanger his chances of re-election. Therefore, the president will use his profound political skill to stall off a third party. He will probably go as far to the left as necessary to entice the radicals and discontents to follow him rather than go off into the doubtful byways of third-partyism. The parties have never made much of a dent in our political history.

MERRY-GO-ROUND So seriously do fellow publishers take the candidacy of Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News for President, that during the publishers' convention in New York wherever he moved became an impromptu "Knox Headquarters." To fellow publishers, he expressed willingness to do anything possible to stop this "nutty New Deal."

BARRACKS FIELD RELICS METZ, France (AP)—Workmen building barracks for troops manning the new frontier forts, uncovered a tide believed by archaeologists to be that of the Gallo-Roman city of Carausus-Ricium. Relics include a silver coin bearing the head of Marc Antony and a statuette of a lion holding a woman's head in its paws.

SKINNY SCRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

I have often speculated as to what was behind the curtain on the south side of the Abstract and Title Insurance company. The mystery has been solved as the unveiling took place this week. There was my good friend Dave Kelly, president of the organization. It has been his private office for sometime—or longer. I have always been attracted to that particular window on account of an inviting sign which read: "Money to Loan." The gold diggers—sign painters to you—are relettering the names of the company personnel, but darn 'em, if they remove that "Money to Loan" invitation. "Borrow" and "Scribbles" will be very unhappy.

When one of my philosophical friends remarked that the Creator hid in the heart of a tiny grain of rye the immortal spark, he said a mouth full. The only thing that made me suspicious was that he came from Kansas.

Tottered over to the biblioteca to browse with the patrons of the librarians. Visit abbreviated for two reasons. Too many books and no conversation. It's a profitable place to spend a few hours—maybe more—but when you have so many places to go to, and just naturally darned nervous, an extended visit is condensed into a few minutes.

Dr. R. A. Cushman, superintendent of the Mendocino State Hospital, visited among former acquaintances last week. The doctor formerly occupied quarters on the 14th floor of the First National Bank, until the late Governor James Rolph convinced him that a change of location would be advisable. I have it on unimpeachable authority that during the doctor's brief appearance in his former environs he precipitated a controversy that is likely to call for an annual exhibition. The doctor, adroitly angled around and decoyed a number of old time Orange anglers, who promised to enter into the contest. Sheriff Logan Jackson thinks he is about as good as ever, and Supervisor John Mitchell will participate, but stipulates there shall be no wind resistance. Justus Craemer will arrange for a rehearsal around the Orange county plaza. Age forbids my participation in the proposed piscatorial activities promoted by Dr. Cushman, but Judge Drum has agreed to substitute. This is a fish story.

"No, no, you ask him. I'm not worried." My answer to the friend who wanted to know if Roy Pinkerton was related to the famous detective.

When The Journal was selecting its personnel a high pressure advertising salesman called and agreed to get a contract out of every business house in town except the post office. Which reminds me that Guy Gilbert offered to take over the old postoffice location in Bill Spurgeon's building and go into the branch postoffice business. The proposition was agreeable to everybody with but a single exception—the government. It was enough.

I never look at the operator of a base ball that I do not associate the instrument with the hour glass form of "come up and see me sometime." A musician who can run the chromatic scale on one of those elongated cello ought to make a good chiropractor.

My newspaper training is of such antique origin that I can hardly adjust myself to this modern photographic journalism. It used to be a newspaper—now it's a photograph gallery. A story is hardly complete unless it appears in all his mole-wart-vacant tooth blemishes. Nothing is his except your past, and sometimes old neighbor reveals the idiosyncrasies of adolescence. What a troupe of the recent past! The introduction of the new city hall dedication when a galaxy of local celebrities appeared, and later on made excuses for their participation. Mayor Fred Rowland, being a rancher, probably came as near as any qualifying for the finals, but he only stayed one round. It do not remember now whether Fred turned the shovel back to Plummer Bruns' hardware store or took it home.

Finally Santa Ana has a city hall on its way up. It's been down for a long time—held down by petty politics which the voters removed at the last election.

TWO EIGHT—OUGHT—FIVE Those figures represent the street and highway fatalities in California during the year 1934. They tell the tragedy of some little tot who strayed into a busy street and whose crushed body was irredeemable, but whose soul was rescued by the Creator. They tell the story of youthful risk, unconscious of danger until too late to avoid a tragedy. They tell of the light hearted bride and groom whose honeymoon was habilitated in black, and of old age overcome by the infirmities of the flesh, caught in the swift current of highway travel. If Wesley Taylor's campaign of law observance will even diminish this atrocious disregard for human life it will remove just that much gloom from the mounting sorrow of week-end accidents.
